New Libya

Libya will witness huge re-construction and development programs after the expel of the old regime.

The country will present a window of opportunity for companies who are willing to be part of the process of rebuilding the country from the ground up.

We believe after the difficult period of war and sanctions, Libya will witness:
Recovery. Reconstruction and development needs across all sectors of its economy.
It will soon become an area of tremendous prospects for business.

More specialized companies in different fields will be needed to participate in these activities.

CAF's team is putting a lot of its efforts and resources to follow and participate in the preparation for and execution of these programs.

With the knowhow of our team members and in association with some reputable businesses and organizations, we believe our firm will be able to play an important role in the execution of many projects related to these programs.
